

Eloquent and Truthful

St Helen's nursery class have shown eloquent and truthful values in their interactions and activities. The children express their thoughts and feelings clearly during storytelling, show-and-tell, and daily conversations. Their candid responses and observations reflect genuine and transparent communication. We, as their teachers, have noticed their ability to understand and explain various topics sincerely. This commitment to eloquence and truthfulness has created a supportive and trusting classroom atmosphere, encouraging further personal and academic growth.

Summer Term 2024

Our Virtues and Values

Learned and Wise

The children at St Helen's nursery have consistently shown learned and wise values in their activities and interactions. They absorb new information and apply it thoughtfully, whether playing together, joining group discussions, or facing new challenges. Their curiosity and discernment reflect a deep understanding of the world around them. Teachers have noticed their ability to make considerate choices, share knowledge with peers, and ask insightful questions. These learned and wise values have created a nurturing and intellectually stimulating environment, supporting their future growth.

